

Church Bulletin Blurb

Sermon Title: Choosing Your Divine Influence: Silencing the World's Noise to Hear God's Voice

Key Scripture: Romans 12:2 - "Do not conform to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind."

This Week's Focus: Are the voices in your head leading you toward peace or toward pressure? This Sunday, we confront one of the most critical spiritual battles we face: the battle for our attention. In a powerful new message titled "Choosing Your Divine Influence," we will uncover the truth about the invisible "coaches" shaping your decisions on everything from relationships and finances to your sense of self-worth.

What to Expect:

- Revelation: Learn what "Coaching Creators" are and how to identify their influence in your daily life.
- Warning: Understand the real dangers of being coached by the world, including spiritual dryness, confused decisions, and a delayed destiny.
- Transformation: Receive clear, practical steps to silence the noisy coaches and tune your heart to hear God's voice as your primary Guide.

This is more than a sermon—it's a divine intervention for your thought life. If you've felt pulled in different directions by the expectations of family, culture, or social media, this message will provide the biblical key to finding clarity and purpose.

Key Quote to Ponder: "Whoever has your ear, holds your future."

Join us for a service filled with powerful worship, relevant truth, and a life-changing altar call. Come ready to disconnect from the world's demands and connect deeply with the only Coach who matters. You will leave equipped, encouraged, and empowered to walk in the confidence that God Himself is ordering your steps.

We can't wait to worship with you!